

Parent Support Offer

Our school is offering specific support to parents this term in recognition of the enormous pressures faced by families during the pandemic.

This support is provided by Anna Freud National Centre for Children and Families (AFNCCF), a national charity for children and families with extensive involvement in supporting schools.

AFNCCF are holding workshops using the online platform Zoom for parents to talk through the issues regarding the transition back to school which impact upon their child.

These workshops will be run up until the end of term, led by a trained facilitator, to support parents in helping their children transition back to school and to share these experiences.

The facilitator will create a helping environment which enables parents to support and learn from each other. The structure is inviting contributions, and for parents to make connections over the issues brought.

You are welcome to attend as many sessions as you would like. Each group session will run for an hour.
