Hints and Tips for students:

Topic checklists – Lists of all of the key content for the 3 examined topics are available from your history teacher. You should use this as a revision list to support them in their revision

Teams Revision Files – Each class has its own set of revision resources on Teams.

Use your checklists to RAG rate your understanding of each topic/question. Focus on your red topics first so that you have chance to revise them more than once.

Never just read your notes – this is not effective revision. The best way to revise is to turn them into something else! - Mind-maps, flashcards, flowcharts etc

After you have made some revision materials, highlight any key dates, people, events etc. Specific examples are always the best way to gain marks in History. Nothing to highlight? This shows you need to back and add more detail!

If you are really struggling with a topic, even after you have revised it, speak to your history teacher who will always be happy to help
